

MAIA Smart Beta Balanced Income

A multi-asset portfolio with the aim to achieve capital appreciation and income within a low to moderate risk profile. The portfolio is constructed using a range of predominantly index tracking funds.

The portfolio is suitable for investors with a low to moderate tolerance for risk, that would accept variation or movement to capital value to achieve their long-term objectives. It is aimed at investors who require an actively managed and diversified portfolio and who have an investment horizon of at least 5 years.

The portfolio is designed to embrace a range of complementary assets including traditional bond funds, equity funds and alternative assets. The funds are blended to provide a broad exposure to global markets as well as areas chosen for their potential for outperformance to enhance returns.

Our fund selection process combines a qualitative and quantitative review of funds. Analysis of returns, risk, style, market cap and investment process are undertaken on all funds. This enables us to blend funds to reflect our views on markets, whilst ensuring that the funds selected do not duplicate or contradict each other. The complementary investment styles chosen for this mandate will be incorporated within MAIA’s dynamic strategic asset allocation.

Market Commentary

The summer months provided little direction for investors, with political risks remaining firmly in the spotlight. Yet despite the headlines, financial markets have continued to be resilient. Equity and bond markets advanced modestly, albeit with periods of volatility, and a renewed attention on alternatives underscored their role in diversification.

Equities benefited from steady earnings growth and optimism around productivity gains from artificial intelligence, while bond markets digested the changing interest rate outlook. For diversified portfolios, this has been a constructive environment, though not without short-term swings.

Alternatives have long been an integral part of our portfolios, and while they may not always attract the same attention as equities or bonds, they have continued to deliver strong and consistent returns in our portfolios. Our allocations across gold, infrastructure and defined return funds each play a distinct role in managing risk and enhancing long-term performance.

This quarter reinforced a familiar message: political risks make headlines, but markets are ultimately driven by fundamentals.

Inflation remains sticky, central banks are cutting rates cautiously, and both equities and bonds are adapting. Against this backdrop, we continue to see the case for alternatives strengthening.
